Excerpt: . has never since that time been any serious trouble in handling the discipline of the knit-shop; although under the old system they used to have as high as ten or twelve cases of punishment a day, and many serious and bloody assaults. On the Sunday following my taking office, for the first time within the memory of man, there was not a single prisoner under punishment; since that time the dark cells have been entirely discontinued; no one has been confined on bread and water; and for 13 months, while there were a few men confined from time to time for observation, there were only 24 men officially punished. Order and discipline have been maintained by the officers of the League; and suspension of the League privileges has proved to be the only punishment necessary. As proof of this remarkable condition of affairs,...
